

If you are taking a brand drug that is not on the Preferred Drug List, the chart below may help you find lower-cost alternatives. Often, many different drugs are available to treat the same problems. The drugs indicated below may be alternatives, but not chemical equivalents. Generic equivalents are shown in bold print. Talk to your doctor about which drugs are right for you.

This is not an all-inclusive list, but represents the most commonly prescribed drugs in each class. There are many brand and generic drugs in each of these drug classes.

Share this list with your doctor to see which covered alternatives might work best for you.
