Comprehensive Code	Component Code	Source	Rationale
63707	63710	BCBST	For 63707, to repair a dural leak, a graft of fat, freeze dried dura, fascia, or muscle is usually used, and 63710 shouldn't be reported in addition to 63707 in these cases. 63710 is reported in cases, for example, where a neoplasm is removed from the spinal canal, and a section of excised dura is repaired. Although 63710 is the more comprehensive procedure, both clinically and by RVU, the likely miscoding scenario seems to be where 63707 is the actual procedure performed, and 63710 is reported to account for the inherent application of the dural graft. Reversing the reimbursement (paying 63710 and disallowing 63707) would be appropriate if review verified that 63710 was actually performed.
